ALEXANDER LUMBER COMPANY

A CORPORATION RUNNING A BIG LUMBER BUSINESS IN UPSHUR COUNTY, ALSO OWNING AND OPERATING A SHORT LINE RAILROAD-FALSE AND MALI-CIOUS COMMERCIAL RATING AND REPORT OF ITS CONDI-TION ALLEGED BY THE PLAIN-TIFF-ATTACHMENTS SERVED ON THE LOCAL BRANCH OF THE DUN AGENCY BY SHERIFF RICHARDS YESTERDAY AFTER-

Yesterday afternoon, in the office of the circuit clerk, the bill of particulars of the heaviest damage suit ever instituted in the state of West Virginia and the first of its kind here was filed and an attachment served by Sheriff Rich-

The plaintiff is the Alexander Lumber Company, a West Virginia corporation, whose extensive lumber plant and short line railroad are located in Upshur county, with headquarters at Alexander, a lumber town, near Buckhannon. The defendant is the R. G. Dun company, more commonly known as the Dun Mercantlle Agency, which has a branch office in this city, of which Mr. W. Alfred Wilson is the manager. The amount of the suit is $150,000, said to be the largest amount of damages ever sued for in the state. It is said this is the first case of its character in West Virginia, but there have been similar sults against the commercial agencies in other states.

in other states.

The bill of particulars was filed in the office of the circuit clerk, by Mr. Henry M. Russell, of this city, who has been retained by the Alexander company, as counsel. The case will come up at the April term of the circuit court, but it may not be tried until later.

Soon after the bill had been filed. Sheriff Richards served notice of the suit and attachment on the visible belongings of the Dun Agency in this city, upon Manager Wilson. This, however, was a mere formality and in no way interferes with the conduct of the Dun Agency's business in this city and state.

The bill of particulars, which alleges false and malicious commercial rating, is given in full below.

Alexander Lumber Company vs. R.

Alexander Lumber Company vs. R. G. Dunn and Robert D. Douglass, partners as R. G. Dun & Co.
Henry Wardeh, being sworn, says he is the president of the Alexander Lumber Company, and as such is acquainted with the matterset forth in this affidavit. Affant says that the said Alexander Lumber Company has brought an action in the said court to recover damages for certain wrongs committed an action in the said court to recover damages for certain wrongs committed by the defendant, R. G. Dun & Co. and Robert D. Douglass, partners as R. G. Dunn & Co., against the plaintiff, and that the affiant believes the said plaintiff is justly entitled to recover in the said action against the defendants the amount, at the least, of $150,000. Affiant says that the nature of the plaintiff's claim in the said suit, being the claim on which the plaintiff is entitled, at the least, the amount aforesaid, is as follows:

at the least, the amount aforesaid, is as follows:

Afflant says that the plaintiff was, at the time of the committing by the defendant of the said wrong, and has been from thence hitherto, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the state of West Virginia, and carrying on the business in the said state of a manufacturer of and dealer in lumber and the products thereof, and the business of conducting a store for the said of general merchandise, and was and has been engaged during the time aforesaid in dealing in lumber and the products thereof, in other states beside the said state of West Virginia, and that in the conducting of the said lumber business, and for the purposes thereof, it owned and operated a large saw-mill and plant, and that for the purpose of its said business, and in the conduct thereof, it was during the time aforesaid, and before that time, necessary for it to make large purchases from persons in the said state of West Virginia, and in other states, and in order to the proper and profitable carrying on of its said business, to obtain terms of credit from the various persons from whom the said purchases were made.

Afflant further easy that until the

the various persons from whom the said purchases were made.

Afflant further says that until the committing of the said wrongs by the said defendants as aforesaid, the plaintift had throughout the dais state of West Virginia and the other states, a deservedly good reputation, and was not, and had not been, and had not been suspected of, being in a shaky condition; and was not, and had not been, suspected of being unable to pay the dobts which it had incurred, or any debts which it hight properly incur in the ordinary conduct of its business, and the said plaintiff had, therefore, been able to obtain, and had oh had obtain, seen able to obtain, and had oh

TERRALINE CURE

It does its work faithfully and well. Works while you sleep. Its healing and building-up powers are remarkable. It is tasteless and palatable-easy to take. Children really like it. It is not a patent medicine. Thousands of doctors all over America prescribe it in their daily practice. It is a pure product of Mother Earth herself, refined and prepared for use by man, and it comes before the public endorsed by many of the greatest physicians of the age.

OF DRUGGISTS IN THE UNITED STATES AND EUROPE. THE TERRALINE COMPANY, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Consumption.

August 27, 1897.

"My experience with Terraine has been very satisfactors;—I have been prescribing it ever since it was first brought to my notice." One case I was particularly struck with where Terrailne has done wonders at the eleventh hour. When I was called to her, the patient had been sick for four years, and I had no hopes of saving her life, but prescribed Terrailne in the hope of relieving her. She constantly spat blood, and had had frequent hemorrhages. Night sweats, heetic fever, a constant hard and tight cough were some of the symptoms. On the 22d day of December, 1896, I first started prescribing Terrailne for her; in the following July, after close and careful examinations, I pronounced her cured." nounced her cured.

HARRY M. ADAMS, M. D., Kingman, Ind.

Coughs and Colds.

September 6th, 1897.

"I had the chance to see the good of Terraline in three cases—of these, two had contracted bad colds, resulting in a cough that rendered sleep impossible. Cough the entire night. After they had taken three doses of Terraline the cough left to return no more. The third case was that of a young man who had exposed himself, with the result of a bad cold, followed by such a terrible cough that it made it impossible for him to lie down at night and get any rest whatever. After two doses of Terraline he went right off to sleep and slept the whole night through without any return of the cough." of the cough."

HY GRIFFITH, M. D., Dayton, Texas.

Typhoid Fever.

October 9th, 1897

"I am still fond of Terraline. By the way, while we are writing so much about typhoid fever, tell the brothers that Terraline is one of the finest foods, (?) next to milk, that can be used in that disease. I do not know its mode of action, but it has an excellent effect upon the patient, who readily gets to like it. I notice the same effect in pneumonia."

, F. A. REW, M. D., Billings, Mo.

Chronic Bronchitis.

September 2d, 1897.

"I prescribed Terraline to a patient who was greatly emaclated, suffering from chronic bronchitis, with profuse expectoration, without appetite, and utterly unable to take Cod Liver Oil. He took the Terraline without difficulty and was greatly improved by its use." THOS. NORTHEN, M. D.,

LaGrippe.

September 5th, 1897.

"I have used Terraline faithfully and hopefully with good results. A short time since I was called to attend a gentleman slowly recovering from a severe at-tack of LaGrippe. He was decidedly anaemic, short of breath, and distressed with a hacking cough, in short was in a fair way to become consumptive. Terraline as directed, nothing else. Effect:-Yesterday he rode six miles to my office, looking as well as he ever did. Terraline is all right.'

Better than Cod Liver Oil.

Sentember 5 1897

September 5, 1897.

"My brother had a very bad cough, almost as bad as consumption, from which he rapidly recovered by the use of Terraline. I might say that I don't look upon Terraline as a substitute for cod liver oil, as it is far superior; I would rather call cod liver oil and its emulsions substitutes for Terraline."

G. W. CARTER, M. D., Durham, Ark.

September 3d, 1897.

"I am using Terraline with most happy results in Pulmonary Bronchial and many throat affections. Have discarded cod liver oil for Terraline, as it has the 'great advantage of no odor or taste—the most fastidious patients do not refuse to take it."

fast depleted, and when the timber is exhautted these items will have a very small valuation.

The prices they get for their lumber would not indicate a very profitable business. It is believed that Mr. Henry, Warden, personally becoming responsible for for the debts of the concern, would make such debts good. Considerable apprehension appears to have been aroused by their tardiness in meeting their engagements of late, and we understand that some prominent houses, both here and in the east, no longer seek their business except for eash. One prominent firm, we understand, insists on closing the account, for which reason they have given orders unsolicited to other firms, which is considered somewhat unusual, and therefore led to inquiry. The affairs of the company have apparently not been carefully and successfully managed, and their future prospects would appear to be alightly clouded, while under ordinary circumstances, as a running concern, their surplus would be worth about $10,000, but their credit has been somewhat impaired, and it might be safer now to leave the account as much as possible in the hands of those aircady interested. They have evidently been hard up for working capital for some time, and when large amounts of credit is involved should furnish security.

The averments contained in the said

The averments contained in the said statement were in many respects untrue. It was not true at the time when the said statement was made, and published, that the second item of ac-counts receivable, considered doubtful should not be on the plaintiff's list of assets; nor was it true that the plain iff's plant would not have sold $60,000; nor was it true that the build-ings would not sell for $25,000; nor was it true that what are called in the said it true that what are called in the said-statement the switches should not be estimated at all; nor was it true that a new plant should have been, or could have been substituted, giving better service, and having an equal output at not more than $50,000; nor was it true that the plaintin's plant was built any debts which it might properly incur in the ordinary conduct of its business, and the said plantiff had, therefore, been able to obtain, and had obtained, and would, but for the wrongs be the said defendant, have continued to obtain all proper and necessary credits. Yet the said defendant, on the 20th day of January, in the year 1867, and on various days thereafter, wrongfully and maliciously composed and published, concerning the plaintiffs, a false, malicious and defamatory statement in writing, in the following words, that is to say:

says that the said defendant published nicating the same in writing to a num-ber of persons in the state of West Vir-ginia, and in the states in which the plaintiff did business as aforesaid, and thereby seriously injured the plaintiff, seriously impaired the plaintiff's credit and reputation as a business corpora-tion, and injured the plaintiff in its tion, and injured the plaintiff in its business interests. Afflant further states that at and before the time of the bringing of the said action, and from thence hitherto the said defendants, R. G. Dun and Robert D. Douglas, were and they still are non-residents of the state of West Virginia.

The week just ending contained only one concert, but this omingus calm in the musical life of the city pressaged a storm, which will continue through the first ten days of February. Next Tuesday the flood-gates will be artistically opened by Signor Riccardo Ricci, with the assistance of the Philharmonic Quartet, at the Carroli Club and the entertainment is deserving the presence of a large audience. Signor Ricci is known as a distinguished basso profundo, not only in this country but on the continent as well. That Wheeling is at present the home and possessor of this magnifleent voice should be a source of pride, and this in turn should be made visible by attendance at the coming performance, which, aside from the fact of its being in the keeping of six of Wheeling's representatives, is in the nature of its carrying out worthy the encouragement of the many who to-day hold art development as the essential to the city's further expansion. The programme, of Tuesday's brilliant musical treat to be given in the Carroll Club Auditorium, and consisting of songs never heard in the city, will prove on reading that Sig-

The Young Men's Christian Association also adds its quota to the week's fullness Tuesday evening in the asociation hall. Every-attraction brought, in the season's course, has been worthy the effort, and the coming one will share honors with preceding affairs.

Mr. Ricci.

At Mozart hall the society, whose name it bears, will entertain on a scale never before adopted, and its endeavor-will be liberally supported. The society proper is a German male chorus with sixteen years good work to its credit, and in this connection it may not be amiss to give the opinion, in part, of Frank Van der Stucken, of the College Frank Van der Stucken, of the College of Music, Cincinnati, regarding the position and value of these German organizations as a musical factor. He says: "None of the fine aris has in this country reached such an altitude, and found such loving réception among all classes of society, as has the noble art of music. This has been brought about, principally by a branch of music, which in its popularity with the masses, has the most direct influence upon a class of people who would not otherwise be reached. This branch of tonal art, offspring of the sung-loving districts of Germany and ple who would not otherwise be reached. This branch of tonal art, offspring of the song-loving districts of Germany and Switzerland, is male chorus singing, the representative of which, the male chorus singing societies, form a most characteristic product of the present versatile century." These singing societies develop the inborn love of music in all classes of society and thus prepare a desirable public for the refining influence of chamber music (The Philharmonic Quartet, every two weeks) and great orchestral concerts, such as that given here last week by the Pittsburch Symphony Orchestra, under the distinguished leadership of Frederic Archer. There are several of these societies in Whoeling, of which the Mozart, under direction of Professor Schockey, ranks second to none, and its concert occurs next Wednesday, at which Mrs. Flora Williams, Mr. Charles Zulauf and Mr. Williams Clemens assist, together with the attraction of the ladies, comprising the social section of the club.

The Opera House Thursday evening

The Opera House Thursday evening offers the enticement of Innes' Famous Band, to seek its shelter. The brass band is the most modern of all the varieties of the music of to-day. At this time, the United States has the greatest concert bands in the world, and the one to be heard here next Thursday evening is recognized as one of the best of them. Nothing further need be said, for this organization's visit here last year is still delightfully recalled by every one of the large audiences present at both after-noon and evening concerts. Vocal and violin golos as well as several on brass wind instruments, which of late years appear on band concert programmes will also be features.

will also be features.

Friday evening, in the A. O. U. W. Temple, the Woman's Club will furnish the elements for a clear understanding of the distinguished composer, Haydn, whose masterplece, the "Creation," is to be sung by the Oradroic Society on February 10, and which will end the ten days' musical wave. This coming "Haydn" evening with the Woman's Club promises to be an auspicious occasion in its history of composer's days, and as it will be open to men and women, advantage of the opportunity should be taken and a large audience be present. Besides the many beautiful bits to be musically presented from the writings of this particular genius, whom musical Wheeling has learned to know and love through the splendid interpretations given him by the Philharmonic Quariet during its series of concerts, a paper dealing with him in every stage of his life story will be read by Mrs. Flora Williams, Mrs. Williams is recognized as thoroughly musical in every sense, and aside from the fact of her ability to interpret, her knowledge of musical history and literature is not excelled in the city and it goes without saying that the tory and literature is not excelled in the city and it goes without saying that the paper written by her will be interesting and one of the features of a master's evening.

Rehearsals will be on in full force everywhere between now and the dates February 1, 3, 4, 8 and 10. The last two, the Orpheus and Oratorio concerts, falling after another Saturday, will be discussed at full length then.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—Captain Joseph B. Willams, a retired riverman and coal shipper, who has been a candidate for the position of supervising inspector of steam vessels, is redoubling his efforts to land the job now that the situation seems to have been greatly complicated by the nomination of Maj. S. R. Crumbaugh, of Hopkinsville, Ky. Major Crumbaugh, somination has not been confirmed by the senate, and it is rumored that Senator Elkins will oppose it.

It seems that Senator Elkins promised the job to Col. Rathbone, of Wirt county, and insists on having his man appointed. In case the Crumbaugh pointed. In case the Crumbaugh comination is withdrawn it may be that neither man will get the place.

Captain Williams was indorsed by the Pittsburgh coal exchange several months ago. Now some of his friends
